DETAILED ACTION

Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-17, drawn to a composition.

Group II, claim(s) 19-21, drawn to a method of lowering blood pressure.

Group III, claim(s) 22-23, drawn to a method of improving food properties.

Group IV, claim(s) 24-25, drawn to a method of producing a composition of group I.

As set forth in Rule 13.1 of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), "the international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept." Moreover, as stated in PCT Rule 13.2, "where a group of inventions is claimed in one and the same international application, the requirement of unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features." Furthermore, Rule 13.2 defines "special technical features" as "those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art."

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of Groups I-IV is a composition which is obtainable as an extract from pine needles, having therapeutic activity, comprising isocupressic acid compounds in an amount of less than 0.01 wt% and further comprising one or more organic acids. The composition which is obtainable as an extract from pine needles, having therapeutic activity, comprising isocupressic acid compounds in an amount of less than 0.01 wt% and further comprising one or more organic acids of claim 19 does not present a contribution over the prior art. As disclosed in Lim, US 5690984, 25th November, 1997, col.1, lines 25-42 and col. 2, lines 53-54, the removal of terpenes from the pine needle extracts to improve the taste is known. As the composition of Lim appears to be made from the same material (pine needles) in substantially the same way (extraction) Lim inherently discloses a composition further comprising on or more organic acids. While the reference does not expressly disclose isocupressic acid compounds, isocupressic acid compounds are terpenes, and therefore inherent to the Lin diclosure. While Lin does not expressly teach isocupressic acid in an amount of less than 0.01 wt%, Lin does teach the terpene taste and odor is substantially removed from the mixture and one of ordinary skill could have arrived at the recited 0.01 wt% using routine experimentation. As such, the composition which is obtainable as an extract from pine needles, having therapeutic activity, comprising isocupressic acid compounds in an amount of less than 0.01 wt% and further comprising one or more organic acids of instant claim 1 does not involve an inventive step. As such, Group I does not share a special technical feature with the instant claims of Group II-IV which represents a contribution over the prior art. Therefore, the claims are not so linked within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2 so as to form a single inventive concept, and unity between Groups I-IV is broken.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
